

Every Minute Counts

Did you know persistent school absence means children miss out on everything?

They fall behind their friends and often fail to fill gaps in their skills or knowledge – sometimes in basics like reading or writing. Some never catch up. Many end up without vital workplace skills they need, are more likely not to be in training or a job and can fall into anti-social behaviour and crime.

Make school attendance a priority for your family and beat the bell.

